

Interpreting the Past, Engaging Audiences: American Association for State and Local History

The American Association for State and Local History (AASLH) is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting the preservation and interpretation of state and local history. AASLH provides a variety of resources and services to its members, including educational programs, publications, and networking opportunities.

Introduction to Public History: Interpreting the Past, Engaging Audiences (American Association for State and Local History) by Cherstin M. Lyon

★★★★☆ 4.5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 22698 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 330 pages

AASLH's Mission

AASLH's mission is to promote the preservation and interpretation of state and local history for the public benefit. The Association believes that history is essential to understanding our present and shaping our future. AASLH works to ensure that history is accessible to everyone, regardless of age, background, or ability.

AASLH's Programs and Services

AASLH offers a variety of programs and services to its members, including:

- Educational programs: AASLH offers a variety of educational programs, including workshops, webinars, and conferences. These programs are designed to help members develop their skills in history preservation and interpretation.
- Publications: AASLH publishes a variety of publications, including the quarterly magazine History News and the annual book Interpreting Local History. These publications provide members with the latest news and research on history preservation and interpretation.
- Networking opportunities: AASLH provides members with opportunities to network with other professionals in the field of history preservation and interpretation. These opportunities include the annual conference, regional workshops, and online forums.

AASLH's Impact

AASLH has a significant impact on the field of history preservation and interpretation. The Association's programs and services help members to develop their skills, stay up-to-date on the latest research, and network with other professionals. AASLH also works to raise public awareness of the importance of history and to promote the preservation of historic sites and artifacts.

The American Association for State and Local History is a valuable resource for anyone interested in the preservation and interpretation of history. AASLH's programs and services help members to develop their skills, stay up-to-date on the latest research, and network with other professionals. AASLH also works to raise public awareness of the importance of history and to promote the preservation of historic sites and artifacts.

Introduction to Public History: Interpreting the Past, Engaging Audiences (American Association for State and Local History) by Cherstin M. Lyon

★★★★☆ 4.5 out of 5

Language : English
File size : 22698 KB
Text-to-Speech : Enabled
Screen Reader : Supported
Enhanced typesetting : Enabled
Word Wise : Enabled
Print length : 330 pages

Tough Cookies Don't Crumble: The Unbreakable Spirit of Those Who Overcome Adversity

Life is full of challenges. We all face them, in one form or another. But for some people, the challenges are so great that they seem insurmountable. They may come in...

The California-Born Diners, Burger Joints, and Fast Food Restaurants That Changed the World

California is known for many things, but its fast food scene is one of its most iconic. From In-N-Out to McDonald's, some of the most well-known fast food...